Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced that her government will promote Zero Budget Natural Farming (ZBNF) to reduce cost of production of farmers and thereby double their income. Subhah Palekar, who coined the word ZBNF, has been asked by 6 state governments to train their farmers on his techniques. However, in his home state of Maharashtra, a considerable number of followers have returned to practicing chemical farming as they failed to improve their incomes with ZBNF. Speaking to ET from remote parts of Himachal Pradesh, Subhash Palekar said, "During the first term of the Modi government, when they realised that the Agricultural Universities could not offer any solution to double the income of farmers, NITI Aayog vice chairman Rajiv Kumar had approached me after to know about ZBNF." "Chemical farming did not give farmers any income. Organic farming is also expensive. Both chemical and organic farming lead to global warming as they release green house gases on large scale," said Palekar, who claimed that he trains the farmers for 25 days of the month without taking any honorarium for it
